Background

Paul Keats has been studying and playing the guitar since 13 years of age. His background knowledge of the music industry gives him a wealth of experience to draw upon to offer a range of teaching methods.

He has also been in the printing & communications industry for over 20 years, which has given him the knowledge to personally design/develop the course structure and material to suit GuitarFX. All course material is designed in a way to enhance our teaching concepts.

Paul has also been an industry and staff trainer at various companies over the past 10 years. At 15 years of age he became a ballroom dancing instructor teaching people aged 8-60 at the studio where he studied.

He has also been an entertainment performer since the age of 15 years, performing with various cover bands around Melbourne in both private and public venues.

In the past he has also provided 'solo' wedding ceremony entertainment and 'Corporate Function' entertainment, and will be continuing to offer these services into the future.

Information

The first lesson is free (without obligation) and we even have a loan guitar available for this lesson - so there is absolutely no expense for any child wanting to trial the GuitarFX experience.

Both shared and private lessons are available for a 30 minute duration.

Younger students often benefit more from shared lessons, as it is a very important step in learning to realise that making errors is okay and very normal. Receiving encouragement from friends makes the learning process fun.

Weekly lessons are held during school hours, however, depending on student numbers, some classes will be held at school 'after hours' on the day of lessons.

If your child is ill and unable to attend their scheduled lesson, please contact GuitarFX as soon as possible. If you know your child will be absent in advance (e.g. camps, medical appointments, etc.), prior notification may enable us to schedule a 'make-up' lesson.

All absences without 6 hours notification will be charged for.

Fees are due within 2 weeks of the invoice date, with overdue fees incurring a $5.00 book-keeping charge. Payment plans may be organised with GuitarFX.

Unpaid fees will result in the termination of lessons.

Cancellation of lessons require 4 calendar weeks notice in writing. If cancellation of lessons is requested within the first 4 weeks of a term then the balance of term fees will be refunded minus a $5.00 book-keeping charge.

Lessons cancelled with less than 4 weeks notice will incur the full fees being payable for the balance of the 4 week notice period.

All GuitarFX students will have the option to participate in an Annual Performance to show parents and friends what they have studied through the year. This is not compulsory, and is a 'non-profit' event which will only be organised if we have sufficient numbers.

We offer a range of 'Hire Guitars' which are available on a 'month-by-month' basis. The hire fee is payable at the beginning of the 4 week period. A deposit fee is required, and fully refundable should the guitar be returned in excellent condition.

Students are able to purchase books and instruments through GuitarFX and we still honour the same warranty periods as the retail outlets.

All GuitarFX students obtain an unlimited amount of free on-line web access to bonus material on our website. These items are secured behind username and password access guaranteeing they are in an area which is not accessible to unregistered visitors.

Whilst this area is still under development, it currently includes items such as course outlines, lesson guides, scale exercises, theory exercises, chord dictionaries, practice diaries and notation sheets in printable pdf format. Many more will be added shortly, and this area will always receive regular additions.

We also offer advice on repairs and suitability of old guitars which families may have 'lying around the house', and can assist in the re-stringing of any suitable guitars. We always check the tuning of all instruments at the start of each class to ensure all students are set-up correctly.

Please contact us to obtain further information regarding any of these items, we will be only too willing to help.
